If you've always wanted to try making your own plant based medicines and products then this book is exactly that Do-It-Yourself Herbal Medicine! The book kept me intrigued from beginning to end. Lots of important information on a variety herbs that can be used to make home remedies and products. There are 5 must have herbs they discuss in depth. Plus 30 more herbs they tell you about. Definitely great if you don't like taking over the counter medications, and want to try going the more natural route. These herbal remedies have been around for centuries, so I don't know why I never thought to try some of them, because my husband doesn't like taking over the counter meds. I am definitely making some for him. Especially with cold season coming up soon, some of these remedies will come in handy. There are remedies for your inner and outer body! And surprisingly it includes remedies for conditions like allergies, depression, ADHD, and anxiety! It has a lot of recipes for almost anything you can think of!! If you have color damaged hair like I do, from having to keep up with my grays!! Be sure to check out the recipe on page 102. Three ingredients are all you need to make this Aloe peppermint hair mask treatment! Or page 100 for chapped lips. You can make a Chamomile lip scrub, with only four ingredients! I am really liking the skin and hair recipes. Some of the recipes are for a one time use, which is great. You make it and then use it. For most of the skin and body recipes it calls for specified essential oils. This is great, I have a stash of them and wasn't really sure what to do with them besides putting them in a diffuser. The book does also briefly talk about essential oils and info on what quality grade oil you may have.
