So I got a new blender for Christmas and what an incredible book to get me started with different things that I can do with my new blender! I always thought it was basically yogurt, fruit and ice....man was I ever wrong! The Healthy Smoothie Recipe book was so perfect for me and what I want out of a smoothie! So, when you get this smoothie book there is a nice little table of contents to get you started. In this book your chapters are; custom smoothies for vibrant health, detox and cleanse, inflammation fighters, weight loss and diabetes, digestion support, brain and energy boosters, immune support, anti aging and beauty, muscle bone and joint support, heart healthy, overall wellness. In the back of the book there is a section called the dirty dozen and the clean fifteen. They give you a table of the dirty dozen fruits and veggies that you should only buy in the organic section of the store and then they give you a list of 15 fruits and veggies that are more safe to buy non - organic. This is some really helpful information that I never even knew existed! There is a short glossary, a recipe index and an index for all of the recipes in this book! So, after checking out A LOT of different recipes and really not knowing which one to go with first, I figured one with berries in it would be a great start! So, the recipe that I tried can be found on page 164, Raspberry Heart Smart. In my concoction I used blackberries and strawberries instead of raspberries and bananas, other than that I stuck to the rest of this recipe. Not only did I find this recipe easy to make, but so yummy to my tastebuds! Even my 3 year old daughter told me it was nummy! There is so much information in this book to help you decide what to buy for whatever reason you're making your smoothies!
