Customer Reviews

Do your own research before using any recipe that calls for an Essential Oil in this book unless you want swollen or sunburned lips. If I could give a negative star I would! The author is Unprofessional due to her Misleading and just plain WRONG and INACCURATE information provided in this book. You can clearly tell that the author did not do any real research. The author contradicts herself and to me this is completely unprofessional, and leads the reader to think the author does not know what she believes herself or what she even knows. Is she just reading various books and then cramming them into a book of her own with no real research, knowledge or conviction of her own? She makes comments about how bad the essential oils are that make you feel a quick tingle and how they ruin your lips and calls them out by name in the first part of the book, then a few pages later she has recipes that include the same oils as well as other "Hot" Essential oils. The one that could cause problems for some people is the recipe that calls for Cinnamon | Cinnamon has the effect of irritating or inflaming the uppermost layer of the lips due to which the blood flow in this area increases. Let's make our lips swell up like the Incredible Mr. Limpet shall we? Recommending Phototoxic Essential oils to your lips without any education or disclaimer!!! WOW! I don't know about you, but I do not want my lips getting sunburnt. Most Citrus oils cause Photosensitivity, unless you do your research you end up with sunburned lips. Why do you need to research? Because cold pressed Lime and Lemon oil can cause photosensitivity but Steam Distilled will not |. To most Lemon Essential oil is the same regardless of the process it was made.
